COLLEGE CHURCH

Short- & Mid-Term Missions

Four Goals

Serve our partners.

The primary objective of our short- and mid-term missions program is to serve our missionaries and national partners—to propel their ministry forward through our service.

Short-term teams serve our national partners through community development projects, evangelism, assisting with church-sponsored camps, providing training and counseling and simply listening to the testimonies and experiences of local believers. College Church sends STAMP teams (Short-Term Adult Missions Program) annually and World Impact teams (high school) biennially.

Short-term missionaries serve from one week to three months. Mid-termers serve from three months to three years. Extended time in a host country provides greater opportunities to build relationships, learn a new culture and language and significantly impact the global church.

Learn about the world.

Every individual will learn about the culture and language of his/her host country, the state of the national church and the nature of cross-cultural work. These trips foster closer relationships between members of College Church and our colleagues worldwide.

Grow in Christ.

Short- and mid-term missionaries are challenged to grow in their faith in Christ, in their confidence to share the gospel and in their awareness of how God is establishing and strengthening His church worldwide.

“This trip put me out of my comfort zone. Being somewhere completely different forces you to rely on God and refreshes your walk with Christ.”

Continue in missions.

One of the goals of our short- and mid-term programs is to help individuals become more actively involved in missions after their return. Short- and mid-termers often return home with a deeper commitment to pray, give and go cross-culturally with the gospel.

WHERE IN THE WORLD?

Teams and individuals have traveled to six continents and served in over 70 countries.

COMMUNITY GOAL

The goal of the Board of Missions is for half of our congregation to serve on a short-term missions team.
